Rights and responsibilities referenced in this Agreement in regard to "Licensees" shall apply to all the Institutions covered under this Agreement; however, Subscriber is responsible only for fulfillment of its individual responsibilities under this Agreement. Neither individual Subscriber nor any Licensee shall be liable for any breach or default of another Licensee or Subscriber.

Subscriber hereby indicates that it and the Licensees agree to each of the following terms and conditions.

1. GRANT OF RIGHTS.

Contingent upon payment of the subscription fee within ninety (90) calendar days of the order, Publisher grants to the Licensees a world-wide, non-exclusive, non-transferable, royalty-bearing license to give Authorized Users access to the Licensed Materials during the term of this Agreement via a Secure Network for the Permitted Uses described in Sections 2 and 4 below, subject to the terms and conditions of this License Agreement (the “License”).

2. SUBSCRIPTION ACCESS

An online subscription and the License permits unlimited simultaneous Internet Access to complete Psychiatryonline content by Authorized Users for as long as APA remains the publisher of the Content and the subscription term has not expired. Secure proxy access from off-site locations is allowed.

3. COPYRIGHT

Unless otherwise noted, the APA holds the copyright on all materials published at PsychiatryOnline. All content is subject to “fair use” provisions of U.S. or applicable international copyright laws. For clarity, nothing in this License Agreement shall prevent Authorized Users and Licensees from carrying out acts that are permitted under the educational institutions exceptions sections of the Copyright Act of Canada.

4. AUTHORIZED USE

A. Terms: During the term of this License and subject to Section 5 below,

i. Within academic institutions: Authorized Users are defined as current members of the faculty and other staff of the Licensees (whether on a permanent, temporary, contract or visiting basis) employed at the Licensees’ premises; individuals who are enrolled at the Licensees’ Academic Institution located on the Licensees’ premises who are permitted to access the Secure Network regardless of physical location of such persons and who have been issued a password or other authentication from the Licensees; and other persons who access the Secure Network from computer terminals within the library premises and are permitted to use the Library premises. For the avoidance of doubt, Authorized Users also include individual members of the public (walk-in users) while they are physically on the premises of a Licensee but is not a substitution for a license by another institution. Authorized Users access also extends to Faculty Emeriti.

ii. Within non-academic institutions: Authorized Users are defined as employees, agents, consultants, subcontractors, independent contractors and Outsource Providers of Licensees, [whether on a permanent, temporary or contract basis] whom a Licensee has authorized to access or use the Licensed Material [from within or outside Licensees or its Affiliate’s premises and whose conduct is subject to regulation by Licensee]. Such use does not extend to data mining, document delivery, distribution or access to a Licensee’s user privileges beyond the terms of this Agreement.

B. This grant of access to the Licensed Material extends only to Licensees and Authorized Users affiliated with Licensees’ Authorized Sites. It may not be transferred or extended to others. “Authorized Site” means an institution under a single administration and that uses a single Secure Network to access the Licensed Material. This agreement hereby applies to the Institution Authorized Sites listed in Appendix C.

i. The Subscriber will clearly delineate the range of IP addresses as provided by Licensees, including the proxy IP server, for each Institution. APA may refuse to grant a single-site license to an Institution claiming a range of IP addresses or using a proxy IP server that, in APA's opinion, represents more than one Authorized Site. In such cases, purchase of a multi-site license may be required. Proxy IP addresses may be used for access to the Licensed Material only by Authorized Users.

ii. Unauthorized use of the Licensees’ IP addresses for access to the subscribed content at Psychiatryonline is a breach of this contractual Agreement. Subscriber warrants and represents that reasonable measures will be used by Licensees to prevent access by unauthorized persons to the secure network and to the Licensed Material, and to inform Authorized Users of general terms and conditions for the use of subscribed content at Psychiatryonline that are consistent with this Agreement. Furthermore, Licensees will make reasonable attempts to enforce the terms of this Agreement upon receiving information from the APA or any other source that reasonably indicates that one or more Authorized Users is in violation of the terms of this Agreement, or that unauthorized users have gained access to the Licensed Materials via Licensees' IP addresses.

C. Licensees have the right to do any of the following:

Authorized Users are permitted to reproduce or disseminate Psychiatryonline content only within the parameters of applicable copyright law. The following uses are specifically authorized:

i. Downloading: Downloading, printing, displaying, distributing, or saving discrete and limited sections of the Psychiatryonline content for the purposes of research, preservation of content, teaching, and/or private study by Authorized Users is permissible within the bounds of allowances under Copyright Law.

content in course packs is prohibited without explicit approval. Links may be provided to Authorized Users for educational purposes via secure third-party proxy servers. For inclusion in course packs or similar use, the Licensees and the Authorized Users are permitted to print one hard copy (or bookmark a digital copy) and share such hard copy or bookmark with third parties to the same extent as the print edition or to the extent permitted under fair use provisions of the Copyright Laws of the United States codified in title 17 of the U.S. Code, or for Canadian institutions, comparable Canadian Copyright Law, which is party to both the Universal Copyright Convention and the Berne Copyright Convention. The production of multiple copies for print coursepacks is prohibited without explicit approval.

ii. Interlibrary Loan: Licensees shall be permitted to use a limited amount of the Licensed Materials to fulfill occasional requests from other institutions in compliance with applicable copyright law. Electronic transmission of Psychiatryonline content to unauthorized users or to another library outside a Licensee's secure network is permissible only by use of a secure electronic system such as Ariel or secure post-to-Web or other prevailing technology that creates a document for one-time use and does not allow storage of the electronic version. Licensees must agree that copyright notices will be sent on all interlibrary loan transmissions. Non-secure electronic transmission of files is not permitted. Any transmission of an epub (eBook) file is not permitted.

iii. Accessibility: Licensees may alter or modify the Licensed Materials as necessary to provide an equivalent level of access to Authorized Users with disabilities in order to allow Authorized Users with disabilities to access Psychiatryonline content.

iv. Medical Information: Licensees may supply print or electronic copies of individual articles or parts of articles taken from the Licensed Materials to fulfill enquiries from third parties for medical information purposes. Copies supplied under this clause must carry without modification copyright notices already incorporated into the Licensed Material. This specifically excludes any use for document delivery services or pay-per-view services or any other replacement of a subscription or a reprint service for marketing/sales purposes.

v. Reprints: Permission to reprint or copy Psychiatryonline content beyond what is allowed in Section 4 must be obtained from APA's permissions department: <http://www.appi.org/permissions>

vi. Subscription renewal or cancellation: The License term shall be equal to the subscription period purchased by the Subscriber. In the event that Subscriber does not renew a subscription, journal content from Psychiatryonline will be available to Licensees on a rolling 12-month embargo basis. Thus, if Subscriber does not renew after December, journal content from the previous 12 months and going back to January 1997 shall be available to Licensees. Non-journal content from Psychiatryonline shall not be available to Licensees after nonrenewal or cancellation, except as explicitly provided for in Section 6. Journal content is that listed in Appendix A. Licensees have perpetual rights with the one-time purchase of the Psychiatry Legacy Collection and DSM Legacy Collection.

vii. Data Mining: Authorized Users may apply automated tools and processes to the Licensed Materials for the purposes of textual analysis and visual mapping of textual and/or statistical relationships within the context of scholarship, research, and other educational purposes but not for commercial purposes.

5. PROHIBITIONS ON CERTAIN USES

A. Unauthorized users: Except as specifically provided elsewhere in this Agreement, the Subscriber and all Licensees are prohibited from making agreements for access to Psychiatryonline content with individuals, organizations, vendors, affiliates, or partners who are not Authorized Users. The Subscriber and Licensees are expressly prohibited from using open proxy servers that would make the Licensed Materials accessible to any individual outside a Licensee's secure firewall.

B. Commercial Redistribution: No direct commercial re-use (e.g., downloading, posting of a file, or printing to sell or distribute to any unauthorized user) of any Psychiatryonline content is permitted. Upon written request of the Subscriber or Licensees, APA may grant permission to provide a limited amount of print or electronic Psychiatryonline content for purposes of regulatory approval, patent and/or trademark applications, or other legal or regulatory purposes.

C. Removal of copyright and trademark notices: The Subscriber and all Licensees agree not to remove, cover, overlay, obscure, block, or change any copyright or trademark notices, legends, or terms of use.

D. Modification: The Subscriber and Licensees shall not modify or create a derivative work of any Psychiatryonline content without the prior written permission of APA. For the avoidance of doubt, Licensees may alter or modify the Licensed Materials as necessary to provide an equivalent level of access to Authorized Users with disabilities in order to allow Authorized Users with disabilities to access Psychiatryonline content as per clause 4 iii.

E. Authentication: The Subscriber and all Licensees will make reasonable efforts to create and maintain appropriate security measures to ensure that only Authorized Users can access subscribed Psychiatryonline content online.

F. IP Addresses: Subscriber affirms that all Internet Protocol ("IP") addresses and/or user names and passwords provided for use of online Psychiatryonline content are controlled by the Licensees exclusively for Internet Access by Authorized Users.

G. Abuse: If the Subscriber or Licensees become aware of unauthorized access to Psychiatryonline through any means, it will notify APA immediately and cooperate in locating and stopping the specific individuals who are abusing the service. If the specific abuser(s) cannot be identified or stopped, APA has the right to withhold, suspend, or terminate access to any or all Psychiatryonline content, without liability, at the offending IP address only of the offending Licensee. Upon becoming aware of any unauthorized use or other breach, Publisher and offending Licensee will inform the other and take reasonable and appropriate steps to both ensure that such activity ceases and to prevent any recurrence. The Publisher and offending Licensee agree to cooperate in good faith and to provide sufficient exchange of information to prevent any further unauthorized use. Publisher reserves the right to suspend offending Licensee access to Licensed Material for infringement of Publisher's intellectual property rights in the Psychiatryonline content or for a breach of the terms of this Agreement. Publisher may, in its discretion, restore access to offending Licensee upon receipt of notice that such activity has ceased and that the Participating Institution has made reasonable efforts to protect against recurrence of such activity.

H. Reservation: All rights not expressly granted are reserved to the Publisher.

6. ARCHIVE POLICY

APA acknowledges that Licensees may participate in the LOCKSS system for archiving digitized journal publications. To benefit from this support, the Licensee must install a LOCKSS cache at their Institution. (See <http://lockss.stanford.edu> for further information.) the Licensee may perpetually use the LOCKSS system to archive and restore Psychiatryonline content, so long as the Licensee's use is otherwise consistent with this Agreement. APA further acknowledges and agrees that, in using the LOCKSS system, Psychiatryonline content may be made available to other LOCKSS system participants who indicate a right to the subscribed Psychiatryonline content.

In the event of cancellation of non-journal content, the Subscriber and Licensees may obtain one (1) static copy of the Licensed Materials in the LOCKSS system format containing content published between the Service Date and termination date of this Agreement. The archival file may be used only in accordance with the same terms and conditions that govern the use of Licensed Materials under this Agreement. Licensee are authorized to make such further copies of the archival file in perpetuity as needed for purposes of archival preservation, refreshing, or migration, including migration to other formats solely for continued use and/or archival retention of the data and does not violate or extend the use rights contained in this Agreement.

7. TECHNICAL ACCESS

APA intends for the Psychiatryonline web site to be available 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. APA will make reasonable efforts to notify the Subscriber of any unusually extended interruptions and will attempt to restore access to sites as soon as possible.

Subscriber and the Licensees agree to cooperate with APA in restoring access to a Licensee. Any compensation due to extended interruptions are subject to negotiation at the next renewal.

8. WARRANTY

APA affirms it has obtained any and all necessary permissions to license Psychiatryonline content, and that use of such content by Authorized Users in accordance with this Agreement shall not infringe the copyright of any third party. Although it seeks to ensure the accuracy of content posted online, APA DOES NOT WARRANT OR GUARANTEE ITS ACCURACY, COMPLETENESS, MERCHANTABILITY, OR FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE.

Neither APA nor the Licensees or Subscriber shall be liable for any indirect, special, incidental, punitive, or consequential damages, including but not limited to loss of data, business interruption, or loss of profits, arising out of the Authorized Use of or the inability to use the Psychiatryonline content.

9. INDEMNITIES

Intentionally removed.

10. JURISDICTION

Intentionally removed.

11. NOTICES

All notices relating to this Agreement should be sent by overnight mail, signature required to Publisher at:

American Psychiatric Association, Director of Publishing, 800 Maine Avenue, S.W., Suite 900, Washington, DC 20024

12. ENTIRE AGREEMENT AND NO WAIVER

This License Agreement constitutes the entire agreement with regard to the subject matter hereof and no representation or promise not specifically set forth herein shall be binding on the parties. No waiver of any breach or default shall be considered valid unless in writing, and no such waiver shall be deemed a waiver of any subsequent breach or default of the same or similar nature. In the event that Publisher uses a click-through license for end users, Publisher shall provide Subscriber and Licensees with notice of and an opportunity to comment on such terms prior to their implementation.

13. HEADINGS

The paragraph headings contained herein are for the purpose of convenience only and are not intended to define or limit the contents of the paragraphs.

14. TERM OF AGREEMENT

This License Agreement shall remain in effect January 1, 2024 to December 31, 2024

15. DURATION OF AGREEMENT

This Agreement will be effective January 1, 2024 – December 31, 2024. Either party may terminate this agreement by written notification to the other party prior to sixty (60) days before the end of a subscription year provided renewal pricing is provided within 120 days prior to the end of the subscription period. For the avoidance of doubt, subscribers may vary year to year and 60 days notice is not required for those participation changes .”

Access to the Licensed Material may be terminated by Publisher for a Licensee, all Licensees, Subscriber, or all Subscribers, but neither individual Subscriber nor any Licensee shall be liable for any default of another Licensee or Subscriber:

A. Immediately, if the Publisher discovers a violation of the Terms and Conditions, which, in the Publisher’s judgment, threatens the security of the Licensed Material or the Publisher’s intellectual property.

- i. For violations of the Terms and Conditions that do not threaten the security of the Licensed Material or the Publisher's intellectual property, the Publisher shall grant Subscriber and/or Licensees thirty (30) days from receipt of notice of such violation to cure the violation. At the end of the thirty (30) day notice period, if the Publisher determines in its sole discretion that Subscriber and/or Licensees has not taken reasonable satisfactory steps to cure the violation, the Publisher may terminate this Agreement immediately.

ii. In the event of unauthorized use of the Licensed Materials by an Authorized User, the Publisher or Subscriber (whichever party discovers the violation) shall notify the other party, and cooperate to identify the User, and inform the User of the Prohibited Uses as defined in this License Agreement. If thirty (30) days after discovery, such unauthorized use has not been cured, the Publisher may shut down access to the offending Licensees or terminate this Agreement. Notwithstanding anything in the foregoing to the contrary, the Publisher reserves the right to restrict access to a Licensees at any time during the thirty (30) day period, if the Publisher deems such a step necessary to protect the security of its Licensed Material.

16. CERTIFICATION

Intentionally removed. See 5F.

17. PRIVACY POLICY

The terms of the privacy policy posted at <http://psychiatryonline.org/privacypolicy> are hereby incorporated into this Agreement and accepted by the Subscriber and Licensees. The Licensor will not, without the prior written consent of the Subscriber and Licensee , or as otherwise permitted by the applicable privacy legislation – such as the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act – transfer personal information of Authorized Users which it receives under this Agreement to any third party other than as appropriate to perform its obligations as described in this License Agreement.

The Licensor shall take reasonable security measures to ensure that personal and confidential information is protected during the term of this License Agreement.. The Parties acknowledge that the only personal information Licensor should receive under this Agreement is limited to IP addresses as identified in Section 4.B. of this License Agreement. Neither Subscriber nor any Licensee shall provide any other personal information to Licensor under this License Agreement.

18. NO ASSIGNMENT

The Subscriber may not assign or transfer its rights under this Agreement.

19. FAILURE OF PERFORMANCE

Following online access approval, the Licensees and Authorized Users will be permitted to attempt access to the Licensed Material at any time. The Publisher will not be liable for any delay, downtime, transmission error, software or equipment incompatibilities, force majeure or other failure of performance, except as already provided for in this Agreement. The Publisher may have contracted with one or more outside agencies to provide the online service and The Publisher shall seek to ensure that all services are provided by outside agencies as negotiated. The Publisher will use commercially reasonable efforts to correct any material performance problem brought to its attention and may suspend performance pending such correction. The Publisher's responsibility to the Subscriber, Licensees and Authorized Users does not extend beyond such endeavors.

20. CHANGE OF TERMS AND CONDITIONS

THE PUBLISHER RESERVES THE RIGHT TO MAKE CHANGES TO THESE TERMS AND CONDITIONS. However, the Publisher shall provide the Subscriber with at least ninety (90) days' prior written notice of any changes to these terms and conditions. If the Subscriber does not accept any change to the terms of the Agreement by the Publisher, the Subscriber may notify the Publisher by e-mail, fax, or letter, prior to the effective date of such changes, that the Subscriber does not accept such change, in which case the current terms shall apply until the end of the Subscriber's current subscription term.

21. GENERAL

The headings used in this Agreement are for convenience only and are not to be considered in construing the terms of this Agreement. The parties shall endeavor to settle any disputes out of court.
